

BLUE HERON RESTAURANT

Blue Heron Restaurant & Catering | 112 North Main Street, Route 47 North | Sunderland, Massachusetts

Nestled in the heart of Massachusetts' richest farmland, Blue Heron Restaurant celebrates the best our Valley has to offer. We are an intimate, relaxed, and upscale dining destination featuring globally inspired New American cuisine. Our dishes are crafted with ethically sourced ingredients – primarily from local and regional farmers—served in the warm, historic setting of the original Old Town Hall. We are deeply committed to sustainability, using organic and responsibly raised ingredients whenever possible. We strive to nourish both our community and planet.

The Old Town Hall, built in 1867, originally served as the home for Sunderland's town offices and grammar school. Over the years, it has played host to a variety of municipal functions. In fact, several couples have shared with us that they obtained their marriage licenses in what is now our kitchen—a charming nod to the building's rich history. The first floor and basement were remodeled in the 1940s, while the second floor remains largely true to its original construction. Lincoln Hall, located upstairs, still features its stunning pressed tin walls and ceilings, preserving the timeless character of this historic landmark.
